New York Stock Market

New York, March 18.—The steady uplift of prices in to-day's stock market and the indifference shown to any but favorable developments made an impressive demonstration of convinced hopelessness on the part of takers of stocks. Some part of the buying was altributed to a short interest over taken by the continued recovery in prices from the weakness of the early must of the week. The persistence of the demand for the principal teading stocks was taken to indicate satisfaction with conditions on the part of some interests well equipped with resources to express their confidence.
Huying for London account was an element in the day's strength. No new feature in the outlook was dwelt on to the entire exclusion of others, but predominance was given to the hope of settlement of labor controversies
between the railroads and their surployes.

A further rise in American Tobacco

hetween the railroads and their supployes.

A further rise in American Tobacco stock in the outside market kept alive predictions that the Supreme Court decision in the tobacco case would be in favor of the company.

Strength of special stocks traceable to individual causes helped the general advance. The rise in Norfolk and Western was a notable case in point There was published during the day cheerful views of the copper trade from the president of the Amalgariated Copper Company, which served as a stimulus to the buying of that stock.

area Copper Company, which served as a stimulus to the buying of that stock.

The financial plan announced by the Chesapeake and Ohio was made the eccasion for an advance in that stock. Rumers of dividend increases amplied to some other stocks, including United States Steel.

Estimates of the week's currency movement promised a gain in cash by the banks, owing to excess of receints from the interior over shipments. The higher rates for time money during the week have operated to attract funds to this centre. The call loan market in New York relaxed slightly in view of the gain in cash indicated for the banks. The heavy bank clearings for the week reported by the mercantile agencies were taken as an index of commercial activity.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $3,155,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New Orleans, La., March 18.—Cotton—Spot steady; middling, 141-16c. Sales on the spot were $50 bales and 100 to arrive; hedged cotton, $50 bales; low ordinary, 112c., nominal. Cotton futures steady at an advance of $67 points on the old crop months and 1124 points on the new. Livernool cables were better than expected. Scalpers were disposed to go short on continued light showers in Texas, but their efforings were assily absorbed by determined bull buying. It looked as if leading bull interests were supporting the market. In the afternoon the market was quiet and unsteady. Scalpers were inclined to go short of the old crops because of the week-end figures. Spinners' takings or 20,000 bales against 25,000 this week last year were the weak spots in the statistics. The market closed steady at a net decline of 1 point on old and net decline of 6 on the new months. Futures closed steady; March, 14.75 asked. inquiry have, as a rule, but added to the mystery.

The greatest sensation of the kind was when Edward L. Wentz, the Philadelphia millionaire, disappeared. This was on Occioer 14, 1901. Hundreds of miners and men imployed about the colto ovens of the Wentz company searched for the young man fay after day for a month. Bloodhounds were hurried to the mountains, but in spite of all that could be done, and in spite of all read to the mountains, but in spite of a reward of $55,000 for the recovery of Wentz, the matter remained a mystery, and it was six months later before his pleached bones were found in a lonely spot on the frowning front of Black Mounain not very far from where he was last seen.

CAPITAL ONE MILLION DOLLARS

HIS REASON FOR MAKING THE VIRGINIA TRUST COMPANY TRUSTEE.

The past week a gentleman executed his will, and in addition to making this company his executor, named it also Trustee to hold his estate in trust for the benefit of his wife and children, his reason being that he had seen so many valuable estates soon squandered when they pass into the hands of the heirs, who are usually inexperienced in business matters.

There are many men who would do likewise if they understood the safety and economy of such a course.

Balks at Near Approach of Matrimony.

"And dere wuz I, waitin' at de chu'ch, we'en he left' me in de lurch," might appropriately be the lament voiced by the dusky damsel who was to have wedded John Orange night before last. John was the obsequious, faithful elevator man in a large office building in this city, and when he announced that he had cornered a flancee the people he lifted heavenward every day rejoiced with him, and at the proper time showered him with silver and china and other suitables for the newly-wed, "The guests are met, the feast is set, mayst hear the merry din," was written before John Orange saw the light of day, but it might well have been a description of the scene at the prospective bride's home last night, where the wedding wes to have taken place. Friends, and reintives from all over Jackson Ward were there in profusion and luxuriance; the bridal lamp was lit; the parson was there, hoping was lit; the parson was there, hoping the list the prospective bride's home last night, where the wedding wes to have taken place.
